Republican State Committee

An interesting situation has been developing in the Republibeen developing in the Republican State Committee in Massachusetts. For some time, it has been known on the inside that the present chairman, Archie Giroux of Lexington, was anxious to be relieved of his arduous duties. He successfully piloted the GOP through the 1946 election and has been an excellent chairman in every way, at least from this columnist's point of view.

If, as reported, certain building materials are being produced for sufficient volume to warrant lower prices, and if, as also reported, retail dealers in those materials are afraid to stock up because they see a break in prices coming, why shouldn't the retail dealers be protected in case of such a break? Please note that we didn't say "protected agains" such a break, for that would imply a move to keep prices at their present level.

What we need is a free flow of lumber and other building materials at prices which will enable the public to build a prices they can afford. As we said recently, the home building market is stalemated now by high cost of materials and labor. If material prices come down and dealers are adequately protected, and if labor is reasonable in its wage demands and genous in giving a day's production for a day's pay, we will began to get somewhere with this whole complicated problem of housing and satisfying a home-hungry public.

There is no denying that the lag in building is a danger signal. It is obvious that the building now under way is merely that which has to be done regardless of cost, and the great market of potential home builders is almost dormant.

The lag in business is evident in a great many lines. Almittedly there are readjustments to be made in many lines, and these readjustments to be made in many lines, and these readjustments to be made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readjustments to the made in many lines, and these readju

What will be the outcome of this inter-party battle? My guess is that Mr. Waring was not projected into the situation until a fairly careful count of noses had been made. Presumably the votes are there to put Mr. Waring over. It is true, of course, that the State chairman of both major parties is by no means the important figure which many people assume He is not apt to go against the desires and plans of the big desires and plans of the big party leaders, partly because he knows in advance that he can be ousted in short order if he offends too many men in high places. A Good Man's Mistake A Sermon by the Rev. Ralph Hebard Rogers, Ph.D.

In the second book of Chronicles, where are sketched the blographies of the kings of Israel, is the story of Jotham. The author introduces us to the king in these words:

"Jotham was twenty and five years old when he began to reign . . . and he did that which was right according to all that his father Uzziah did; howbet he entered not into the temple of the Lord. And the people did yet corruptly."

It is remarkable how modern an ancient story can be, Jotham are an ancient story can be, Jotham was a man of notable gifts. He was a man of notable gifts. He was a king by birth; he was also a ruler by virtue of worth. He was energetic and did his work wholeheartedly. He had an eye on material welfare of people. He believed in prepared-ness. For the protection of his country he built walls and fortresses. Jotham was a man of high

Why mention It is not narrow-minded to hold this lapse against so able and worthy a man? Doubtless there were prominent men in and to absorb as much of the Jerusalem who never missed a sermon as possible. Sometimes it service in the temple. Standing beside this public-spirited and patriotic monarch, they would have appeared as moral and was very little, At Sunday dinner we talked about the sermon. been made by a modern writer:
"Men might conceivably have great experiences of God's presence and their own moral need while getting out of the rough by the seventeenth hole, for nothing is impossible with God, but such an experience is not really slikely to occur."

It may be that Jotham never formed the habit of going to the temple in his boyhood. Many people today are regular in their attendance at public worship because they were accustomed to go in their early youth. Occasionally, however, one meets a person who says apologetically, "Well, you see, I was made to go to church service when I was young. I got enough religion then to last."

THE AUBURNDALE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The church was organized in November, 1850. On September 12th, fifteen persons gathered "to consider the expediency of establishing and maintaining public worship beneatly organized body was known as "The Evangelical Congregational Church of Auburndale "It was so called until the Society and the Church were incorporated until the Society and the Church were incorporated congregational Church." choice are required to re-estab-lish and maintain the habit. Whatever other reasons caused Jotham to neglect his responsi biilty, he had not faced the issue squarely. Had he done so, he would have realized the signifi-cance of his mistake. He would have recognized how inconsistent it was for him, the king and the son of a great religious tradition, to set an example of indifference to religion which, if followed by his subjects, would result in the decay of the moral and spiritual life of his time. life of his time.

And this, we are told by the author of the Chronicle, is exactly what did happen. "And the people did yet corruptly." Jotham tead his people from corruption into ways of irregrity and righteousness. He was not inspired to encourage a reformation that would have stirred the conscience of his subjects to return to the paths of rectitude and o walk humble. never scoffed at the worship in righteousness. He was not make the pattern to the paths of rectitude and to "do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly before their God"

The Church Welcoming Committee is Mrs. Henry S. Moore, Chairman; Mrs. James Callard; Mrs. Robert H. Cobb; and Mrs. William R. Mattson.

Jotham's mistake is being repeated today. Protestants seem to treat attendance at church as a trivial matter. As history has shown, it is not a trivial matter. shown, it is not a trivial matter. There is a direct connection between the "corruption" of life and the failure to support and participate in public worship. It has happened in Europe in the last half century. It can happen anywhere. It may be nearer the facts to say that it is happening

The modern man's mistake is in holding that he is religious while he disdains or neglects the offices he disdains or neglects the offices of the church. He makes the er-ror of supposing that he and his fellows are angels when, in reality, they are men. If they were angels, they would not need the aids and encouragements which institutional religion can were angels, they would not need the aids and encouragements which institutional religion can offer. The reason for this is that human nature is weak, woefully weak. We have noble purjoses, but we fail dismally to live up to them. We need to be reminded constantly of what we ourselves know to be true. To provide these needed reminders is what the service of public worship has done and is doing. We know that parents for the early disciplines. humility, brotherliness, forgive-They are a part of our goodly ness, kindness, and consideration for all men are most to be desired Jotham's absence from the in mankind, but our dedication to ouse of God may be explained, what we know to be true and on the ground that he was a busy righteous altogether is tremend man. He used the Sabbath to catch up on the tag ends of the week. He could not spare an hour fellow-men. We receive strong week. He could not spare an nour fellow-men. We receive strong for the nurture of his soul. This is a temptation that many cannot resist. We read, however, that Michael Faraday, the great Michael Faraday, the great of the church which have hearten-the strong for the church which have hearten-the first resolutions of persons. is a temptation that many cannot resist. We read, however, that Michael Faraday, the great Michael Faraday, the great English chemist and physicist, was not too busy to leave his experiments and to worship each Sunday and on a week night in the little church where there were seldom more than twenty or thirty persons present. Once the habit of church attendance has been broken, a strong sense of duty and a deep conviction "The Lord is nigh unto them." "The Lord is nigh unto them. that are of a broken heart, and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.'

The problem is not merely to encourage all men to worship, but in adopting every good means and every helpful measure to enable us to make a more decent life for ourselves and our fellow-men on this planet in this critical hour. We need to believe and to act upon our belief that our stand counts on the side of God in "the strife of Truth and Falsehood."

National Guard Continues Old Traditions

In the forefront of our nation's defenders since colonial days, your National Guard has an increased responsibility in maintaining the security of the United States.

The primary mission for the new National Guard is to prepare itself to be available for immediate service in any emergency that may arise in the atomic age. To meet this obligation, our military leaders have planned a National Guard more than twice its pre-war strength.

A greatly expanded air arm of the National Guard with 72 fighter squadrons and 12 light bombardment squadrons will be integrated into the nation's air defense. Twenty-five Infantry Divisions and two Armored Divisions will be trained, equipped

Gov. Bradford's Message

I confess that I was somewhat startled when I read the Governor's message on taxation, Governor's message on taxation, Despite the frequent suggestions that a sales tax was probably in the offing, it seemed unlikely to me that such a rax would finally be recommended. However, a study of the personnel of the Governor's special commission on frances might commission on finances might have warned me. It was a rather courageous group of men who really knew a good deal about the question of taxation and State finances.

Personally, it has always been my opinion that a general sales tax should be sort of a court of last resort, after all other means had failed. Such a tax will unquestionably bear down bombardment squadrons will be defense. Twenty-five Infantry risions will be trained, equipped a very great burden on anybody. This is certainly not true.

Even your typical white-collar worker, to say nothing about your even lower income groups, is hardly in a position to pay any more taxes at this time.
Well, you may counter, what do YOU suggest? That is a fair question. My readers may recall that I stressed last week the fact that the sum total of many relatively small savings equalled a large saving. I was speaking of the increased salary that our Legislators were about to vote for themselves; also, sarily large travel expenses My figures appeared to show that about $62,400 could be easily saved on present travel expenses. The saving on the in-creased salaries would mean at least another $70,000. Add the two figures together and you get $132,400. That means over a tenth of a million dollars and that isn't peanuts.

that isn't peanuts.

Here are two more suggestions. How about imposing a tax on all owners of radios, based on the value of each radio? Those who have a very expensive radio, or who have two or three radios in their house, as many people do, would be obliged to pay a much stiffer tax than those who have a "one-lung" machine, if I may coin the phrase. In other words, the tax on the bulk of those who can ill afford to pay many taxes would be quote small. taxes would be quote small.
Furthermore, this tax would be payable but once a year and NOT every time you wanted to buy an article of merchandise.

My second suggestion, which requires real intestinal fortitude for the gentlemen on Beacon Hill, including His Excellency, Governor Bradford, would be the levying of a much stiffer tax Newton Fire Department and Chief John Keating for winning first place for the city of Newton in Class IV in the 1946 National Fire Prevention Contest was adopted by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night.

Newton Bankers Association Holds 20th Annual Meeting

Kenneth W. Rogers, vice-president and assistant treasurer of the West Newton Savings Bank and president of the Newton Bankers' Association, presided at its 20th annual meeting held last Monday night at Brae Burn Country Club in West Newton. After dinner, Mr. Rogers con-veyed the regrets of Seward W.

Jones, president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, that he was unable to be present. Mr. Jones, now over 90 years of age, was one of the founders of the organization and this was the first meeting that he had missed.

he had missed.

Reports were then given by Joseph Earl Perry, president of the Newton Savings Bank and chairman of the mortgage committee, Walter A. Hood, assistant treasurer, Newton Co-operative Bank, chairman of the advertis-ing committee, and William M. Cahill, vice-president and treasurer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, for the nominating committee. The following officers were elect-

A resolution was offered by Mr. Perry and voted by the group in recognition of the outstanding service of its member, Warren W. Oliver, treasurer of the Newton Onver, treasurer of the Newton Co-operative Bank who, during the past two years, has been pres-ident of the Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League.

The Honorable Timothy J.

Donovan, commissioner of banks for Massachusetts, spoke briefly ously together in spite of seemingly intense competiton.

The Honorable Paul M. God-dard, mayor of Newton, was then introduced and commended on the city's affairs, reviewing the progress that has been made in the last eight years.

The principal speaker, Dr. William A. Irwin, economist, American Bankers Association, gave a very thoughtful address, pointing out our present unsettled econ-omic picture and what the group, both as the banking fraternity and privae citizens can do to im-

The latter building is to be built at the expense of Father Dolan, pastor of the Church of Dolan, pastor of the Church of Our Lady, who is deeply inter-ested in the project. The archi-tecture of both buildings will be simple, yet attractive. The funds for the schoolhouse were partly provided for by a recent fair, which netted over $5000.

The money necessary to secure a mail box for the depot has been received and the box has been ordered by Postmaster Ellis. It will probably be up and ready for use the first of next week. Mails will be collected morning, noon and night, and it will prove a great are and it will prove a great con-venience to business men who wish to post mall before going in town. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

It is expected that the new Newtonville. station will be completed in about four weeks. The station plans have been modified to conform to the new grade of the railroad tracks, and the building has been located about 12 feet below the grade of Centre street in order to avoid the necessity of constructing a long flight of steps from the waiting rooms to the track level. It is constructed of Milford granite, with trim-mings of Longmeadow brown stone.

Judging from the number of new houses being built here Waban is growing faster than any other part of the city, and if we had only thought of it in time we might have ladd a claim to the central postoffice. as we could have gotten up a map with all our vacant land laid out into house lots, and covered with fine "Taxation in Massachusetts," of house lots, and covered with fine houses, on paper.

though the rest of the eye and the optic nerve remain healthy, the person becomes blind. When vision is lost through this par-ticular type of blindness, it can usually be restored to one eye at the first president of this group.

The person is lost through this particular type of blindness, it can usually be restored to one eye at a time by cutting away the clouded cornea and replacing it with a piece of clear healthy cornea taken from one of two sources: either from an eye which has been removed from a living person for causes not affecting the cornea, or from the good eyes of deceased persons who were sufficiently informed and thoughtful during their lifetime to make specific arrangements for their priceless donation at the time of death. Age, sex, race, and blood type of the donor make no difference, nor does any defect in vision not affecting the cornea.

Eyes must be removed within one hour after death. At the present time it is possible for the Eye Bank to take advantage off the gifts of only those eye donors who happen to die in hospitals, because in most instances only hospitals have the necessary facilities for removing the eyes. There is no disfigurement.

Eye tissue can be preserved only for a maximum of 72 hours before being used in the corneal transplant operation. If that time to the police about my garden trash which was put out on the street for collection, I would like to say that I was just as disturbed as he or she was. I had made several appeals to the city trash collector, even to the street department and to no avail. I was told that there might be a general collection of garden trash the middle of May. I had tried several times to burn the tried several times to burn the trash but frequent showers made that impossible. I had then described to call for a private truck Council, Miss Betty Bougher, stu that impossible. I had then decided to call for a private truck to carry it off but before I had done so the police officer called to say "someone" had complained. I was very glad of the police call, for he was most helpful in giving me suggestions which I hope to carry out if the said complainant will have a little more patience; and by the way if said complainant doesn't commit any worse offense than Is Mr. Lewis has been assigned. Rotary Club

Gene Campbell, who sang his 'swan song" in Newton Rotary Club on Monday, was responsible for a very interesting program. One of his assistants, Mr. Robinson, gave a lecture and demonstration of the micro-wave, which tration of the micro-wave, which is a high frequency wave travelling in a straight line. In this it is unlike the radio waves, which spread in all directions, and more like light waves. It is used in telephonic and telegraphic messages and television. Two lines run out of Boston, one over five towers to New York City, and the other to New York City, and the other via a tower at Barnstable to Nantucket. These are still experimental installations. Mr. Rohin. Nantucket. These are still experimental installations. Mr. Robinson demonstrated the wave characteristic qualities of the micro-wave. Among these were the following:

Micro-waves pass through nonconductors that are obstructed by conductors, therefore will not pass through a hill. They may be passed through flexible tubes, through which the direction of the current can be changed. These are used to transmit the wave from its source to the transmitter at the top of the tower. In other words, the tube acts as a directional guide to any place desired. Micro-waves can be bent on their direction changed by dir-ection changers much as light can be deflected or their direction changed by direction changers much as light can be deflected by reflectors. By this means the micro-wave can be transmitted over and around a mountain. Other instruments increase the intensity of the in-tensities of the wave are simple open grills or panels, thus of-fering little resistance to winds and permitting therefore, light construction.

Comm. Asks Voters To Approve Adoption Of Plan E in Newton

Rallying under the slogan, "Better Government at Less Cost," the Newton Plan E Committee today began circulating petitions throughout the 13 "Villages" in the City of Newton asking the voters to approve a change from the present 1897 special charter government to a modern councillor-city manager government vehicle.

The movement is sparkplugged by Mrs. William Barber and Miss Adelaide Ball, president and vicepresident of the Newton League of Women Voters.

Declares Candidacy For Ward 4 Alderman

Andrew F. McLaughlin of 17 Tudor terrace, Auburndale, announces that he will be a candidate for the office of alderman for Ward 4 in the coming November

This is Mr. McLaughlin's initial attempt to seek public office and is not based on any inordinate desire for financial gain or social prestige, but for the sole reason that through that office he would be able to aid in rendering good government to his fellow citizens. "The fact that I am not affiliated with either political party." he ed with either political party," he states, "will be of necessity a handicap; but I feel that a majority of my fellow citizens are more interested in the individual than they are in the party."

"During a political campaign it is always easy to incite notoriety through dwelling upon significant issues. However, I am sure that my fellow citizens realize that the true test of ability and courage is not accomplished through this type of activity, but rather through the actions of the candidate when elected to the office."

"I solicit the support of my neighbors and friends."
Mr. McLaughlin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter McLaughlin of Auburndale. He is 26 years of neighbors and friends."

Mr. McLaughlin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter McLaughlin of Auburndale. He is 26 years of age, single, and was graduated from the Newton High school in 1936. He attended evening classes at the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance, graduating with the Class of 1942, and also attended ed Boston University evenings for a pre-legal course.

He enlisted in the U. S. Navy as a seaman serving from February, 1942, to January, 1946, when he received his discharge as a first class petty officer. While in the Navy, he served 33 months overseas in the North Atlantic and South Pacific.

He is a charter member and past senior vice-commander of Lt. Stanton M. Amesbury Post, V.F.W., a member of the 211 Club and the American Legion. He is employed as claim representative by the Lumbermen's Mutual Cas.

Finding the Knack of Living A Sermon by Rev. Frederic Groetsema

Text: "I have come that you might have life and have it abundantly." (John 10:10)
Isak Dinesen, in her story, "The Dreaming Child," has an old judge remark: "These Plejelts are not bad people; I have got many worse than they. They are pretty, healthy, likable, even talented in their way. Only they just have not got the knack of living. And if they do not promptly pull themselves to gether I cannot tell what will become of them, except that the rats will eat them." (p. 155)
The old judge might have been describing some of our friends. He might have been describing ourselves! Our age just does not seem to have the knack of living. If we ever fruly had it, it seems to have been lest in the turnoil of war.

the knack of living. If we ever fruly had it, it seems to have been lost in the turmoil of war-time living. Certainly we fail to understand, or understand-ing, fail to attain Jesus' stand-ards of the abundant life. What is wrong with our time?

We can't go into all the things which are wrong with our time, but we can look at some of the guide posts along the road of life that, if followed, lead to the discovery of the nack of living.

but because our age is a pleas-ure-mad age. No country in the world spends as much on pleas-ure as we do. The pleasures we ure-mad age. No country in the world spends as much on pleasures we seem to enjoy are coming to be more and more bazaar, thus betraying the secret that we have missed the real point about pleasure. It has become an end in itself, whereas it must be one of the guides to abundant living. In the milker word would live is open: "Follow me, I am the way, the truth, and the way, the truth, and the way, the truth, and the way is the way to really want to live?"

The Minister

Mr. Groetsema's education between in the milking schools of living.

The church has, in the past, word has been a negative word. "Thou shalt not" concerning pleasure, and not enough of the words: "Thou shalt." The church would do well to present to our pleasure-seeking age a positive view of the whole matter of fun, joy, recreation and pleas-

Pleasure should not be costly either in time or money or physical well-being. What we do for recreation should not be harmful to others or to the community as a whole. What we look upon as fun in our lives should build a genuine appreciation of other people, of beauty, of nature, of family life, so as to give us an added reserve of spiritual power for the days spiritual power for the days ahead. When pleasure is prop-erly placed in the scheme of our life it is entirely compatible with the doctrine of loving one's neighbor and serving God.

We can never attain the knack of living without gaining a sense of belonging. We need to feel that we are a part of the life about us. We need family love and fellowship. We know how tragic it is for a child to grow up in a family where for some reason he feels he is not wanted or loved. As we grow up, we need to feel that we are II. wanted or loved. As we grow up, we need to feel that we are up, we need to feel that we are a part of the community in which we live. People are not happy in a community where they feel shut out of its life. That is the tragedy of life in a big city; there is so little opportunity for folk to feel that they are definitely a part of the life of the community. We need to feel a oneness with the nation; this is fairly simple in war-time; our problem is now to feel oneness with humanity Congregational Church. Fort to feel oneness around the world! Let me be faithful to tny grace, just for today,
So for tomorrow and its needs,
I do not pray.
But keep me, guide me, love me, Lord, just for today."

"I came that you might have life and have it abundantly." So speaks the Man, who above all others had the knack of living. It is His will that we should live. I fear unless more completely to following Him into abundant life, we shall Take this matter of the place of pleasure in our lives. There are other values in dis-

There are other value in discovering the knack of living: the value of self-discipline, the value of having a holy of holes within us and the value of discovering an over-all goal in life. However, there is one more signpost I must mention that points unmistakably toward the knack of living.

There are some words of Jesus, perhaps the most confusing of all His sayings, confusing of all His sayings, confusing at least to a practical American mind — "Take no thought of tomorrow." what you shall eat or wear." That saying is heresy to a prudent man. "Take no thought of tomorrow." That is monstrous folly. That is what is wrong with the world . . all this flagrant spending.

But, we miss Jesus' point.

with the world . . all this flagrant spending.

But, we miss Jesus' point.

As was His custom when teaching, Jesus is using exaggeration to make His point. We literally minded folk take Him at His word. What He is truly saying is this: "Don't get so wrapped up in tomorrow as to miss today." How many of us do that thing. We worry about the future, plan for it, yes live in it, and miss the only time we have to build the mansion of the soul: today.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST,

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the son-sermon subject for Sunday, Golden text: "As by one man's Golden text: "As by one man disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous." (Romans 5:19.) Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James version) in-

"No man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish. But new wine must be put into new bottles; and both are preserved." (Luke 5: 37, 38.) Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Divine Science does not put new wine into old bottles, Soul into matter, nor the infinite into the finite. Our false views of mater perish as we grasp the facts of Spirit. The old belief must be cast out or the new idea will be spilled, and the inspiration, which is to change our standpoint, will be lost." (p. 281).

10:50 A.M. Morning Worship with sermon, "The Fifth Commandment and Its Corollary," by Rev. Randolph S. Merrill. The chancel choir will sing under the direction of Mr. James H. Rem-ley. Also, the Women's Choir will sing "A Prayer for Mothers," the words of which are:

"Our Father who art in Heaven, we pray that for our children's sakes we may be kept clear of vision, true of purpose, pure in heart. So teach us and dwell within us, that loving us and fol-lowing us, our sons and daugh-ters may learn to love and follow Thee. Help us so to live with them and with all people, that our children shall know the beauty and joy of Christlike service. In his name we make our ice. In his name we make our prayer. Amen."

"A Prayer for Mothers" was written by Mr Merrill for the Longmeadow Maternal Association and then later, through one of its members, was set to music by the well known composer, Oscar Rasbach. Most people know Mr. Rasbach as the composer of "Trees." poser of "Trees."

RECENT DEATHS

Ernest J. Regnier

Ernest J. Regnier of 35 Both-feld Road, Newton Centre, prominent in the paper manufactur-ing business for 40 years, died on Wednesday, May 7.

Mr. Regnler was in his 84th year and was born in Canada.

May 5, at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. He had resided in Newton for 25 years. As a young man he went to work for the Carter Rice Com-pany of Boston, later becoming a salesman and director of the Nashua, N. H., Gummed and Coated Paper Company. He retired eight years ago.

He is survived by his wife,

Mrs. Sara A. Regnier, a daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Collins, and a grandson, Charles A. Collins, Jr., both of 28 Central Street, Auburndale. Funeral services will be held at noon on Friday at the Water-man Chapel, 495 Commonwealth

Thomas J. Dooley

Avenue, Boston,

Funeral services for Thomas J. Dooley of 15 Minot place, New-tonville were held from his home on Tuesday morning. A solemn requiem Mass was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady by Rev. Francis X. Bransfield, assisted by Rev. Arthur I. Norton as deacon and Rev. Alphonse G. Palladino, sub-deacon. Burial was in Calvary sub-deacon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham with prayers by Fr. Bransfield.

Among those attending the services were Herbert Boothby, retired Deputy Chief of the New-ton Fire Department, Lieuts. James Clark and Christopher Keeting of the Fire Department Keating of the Fire Department Keating of the Fire Department, and Fred Cahill of the Newton Motor Sales.

Mr. Dooley died on Friday, May 2nd, following a short illness. He was in his 75th year and was born in Ireland. He has been a resident of Newton for more than 50 years.

A Timely Report

The erstwhile "boy educator," Robert M. Hutchins, Chancel-lor of the University of Chicago, as head of the Commission on Freedom of the Press, has recently issued a study of the contemporary American press.

Chancellor Hutchins is perhaps best known in the intellectual world for his vanguard work in the resurgence of the perennial Thomistic philosophy, as he and his colleague, Professor Mortimer Adler, probably the most profound philosopher in this country to-day, hammered away steadily at the subjectivistic confusion that sed for thinking in many universities, at a time when to speak passed for thinking in many universities, at a time of "reaction-of "absolute truth" was to invite the characterization of "reactionary" or "medievalist."

Now this educational innovator, together with 12 other experts, has released the report of an inquiry which was undertaken more than three years ago.

Financed by grants of $200,000 from Time, Inc., and $15,000 from Encyclopedia Britannica, the inquiry has furnished a com-prehensive report on the present state of our newspapers, a report that is being generally hailed as the most outstanding ever made

Analysing the shortcomings of the daily newspapers, the Report deplored the fact that the press emphasizes the exceptional rather than the representative, the sensational rather than the significant, and declared that news is being twisted by the emphasis on firstness, the novel and the exciting.

The Commission did not object to the reporting of acts of violence, but rather to the preoccupation with them, to the exclusion of the social and cultural factors.

A weekly paper—for which we are thankful—does not face this constant pressure to be ever alerted for "scoops" of a sensational nature, but seeks only to bring out a wholesome sheet that is proper, fare for the entire family.

At a time when America is required to show the world the benefits of democracy, it is doubly unwise that our novies, our sedie and our papers convey the impression that our life is mostly radio and our papers convey the impression that our life is mostly a mad mixture of night-club brawls, race riots, strike violence, and quarrels among public officials.

Our U. S. Senators

Together with a great many other good friends and admirers of Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Senator Leverett Saltonstall and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge I have peen increasingly puzzled of late by some of their votes in the U. S. Senate. The climax came, of course, when they broke away from the polley of the Republican leaders in the upper branch of Congress on the first two amendments to the the first two amendments to the

Let's look at the vote on these amendments. There was a vi-tally-important amendment de-signed to curb industry-wide bargaining. Under this amend-ment a man like John L. Lewis would never again have the pow er to cripple the country by means of a nation-wide coal strike. This amendment was de-feated by a very close margin, 44 to 43. Voting for the amendment, in addition to Senators Taft, Vandenberg and Wherry, who are three of the so-called Big Four in the G. O. P., were men like Ball of Minnesota, a real liberal, Ferguson of Michigan, one of the strong men of the Senate, Brewster of Maine and Bridges of New Hampshire, Bricker of Ohio, Capper of Kan-sas, Hickenlooper of Iowa and twenty-one other Republicans. That accounts for thirty-one members of the G. O. P. Twelve Democrats, including Byrd of Virginia and Fulbright of Arkan-sas, also voted for this amend-ment, making a total of forty-three votes in favor of curbing industry-wide bargaining.

Now look at the other side of the picture. There were fortyvotes cast against the amendment. Twenty-eight were Democrats and sixteen were Republicans, including our own two Senators, Saltonstall and Lodge and four other New Englanders. Of these four, two are men who are apt to stray off the reservation on quite a few measures and two are normal Republicans. The first two are Alken of Vermont and Tobey of New Hampshire and the last two are Baldwin of Connecticut and Flanders of Vermont. The other ten Senators are a hodge-podge. Among them are supposedly sound men like the new Senator from New York, Mr. Ives and the very- very queen gentleman from North Dakota,

Mr. Langer.

Turn, now, to the vote on the next amendment to the labor bill. This would prohibit union control of health and welfare funds and the involuntary check off of union dues. In contrast to the first amendment, this one carried by a vote of 48 to 40, despite the vote of our two Massachusetts Senators on the losing side. All the Senators whom I referred to as voting FOR the first amenlment voted for this one as well. The line-up included thirty-three Republicans and fifteen Democrats. licans and fifteen Democrats.

Once again we had the spectacle of Senators Saltonstall and Lodge voting with a minurity of fourteen Reublicans, grouped with twenty-six Demo-crats. The G. O. P. votes came The G. O. P. votes came substiantially the same from substiantially the same men as before. Well, how do my readers interpret these votes by our own Senators? Have they just nat-urally gone soft on necessary labor legislation or have they cast these apparently sour votes because they feel that the G. O. Decause they leef that the G. O. P. leadership has really gone too far in their proposed handling of the critical labor problem? Most of us will doubtless hope that the latter is true. Certainly the latter is true. Certainly our Senators have not been lack-ing in courage on other matters, even tho' the Lillienthal vote was disquieting to many in the New England area. It seems to me that it would be helpful if the Massachusetts Senators would issue a public statement in due season, explaining the reason for their votes.

One final comment. Our Junior Senator, of course, has al ways been an earnest pro-labor man, ever since he entered pub lic life. His record in our state legislature shows that to be true. As a matter of fact, that is precisely the reason why quite a few Republicans have never cared for Senator Lodge. It is not so much that they object to his pro-labor votes as it is that have always questioned his by in casting some of votes. That is the big

Our Senior Senator is also in a curious position. He had the support of the CIO in at least one important campaign. It may have been two or even three. Some of political cynics therefore, are apt to suggest that he may at times feel slight ly obligated toward labor. How ever, I doubt very much if Ser Saltonstall would against his his own conscience on any vital piece of legislation. He is too fundamentally honest to do anything like that.

Our Governor It is both amusing and tragic, in a way, to note the reaction of a number of men who seem to consider themselves regular Republicans, Reference is to the recent mesage of Governor Bradford on taxation. Already you can hear a wail over the fear that the Governor will be a one-term Governor. It is my guess that a lot of people who talk this way are men who nev-

Letter to the Editor

In these days of strife and strikers and political confusion I feel it my duty to remind the public that every dark cloud has beichter Union and and the public that every dark cloud has beichter Union and the extinguisher. a brighter lining. And so, on the afternoon of May 3rd the Board of Directors of Stone Institute gave an afternoon tea to the ladies of the Institute and their friends. About one hundred faced the New England downpour; and while outside it was damp and disagreeable, inside it was very different.

The bright dresses and adorable hats brightened the atmos phere in the spacious dining hall, but that was nothing to the happy expression on the faces of the guests as they entered the doors.

The room was filled with small tables around which groups of people gathered and enjoyed the delicious refreshments.

The floral display was greatly admired by many, and the flowers were arranged by a lady in the Home.

A great deal of praise is due to the committee whose plans were carried out so efficiently. This tea was given in place of the annual sale which took place for so many years—and all present hope it will be an annual present hope it will be an annual for so many years—and all present hope it will be an annual affair.

It would be impossible to remember all the pleasant things mentioned as the good-byes were said; and we want to prove to our friends that we do not al-ways need sunshine for a happy years—women who "worked" controvere everyy ere applauded as ings.

For a number of years—war years—women who "worked" were everyy" ere applauded as patriotic, hailed as world beaters, praised as dynamos of human energy. The sacrifice which as woman was making in leaving the house at odd hours to work in a defense plant, returning at a woman was making in leaving the house at odd hours to work in a defense plant, returning at still odder hours to catch up on her housework was tully recognized by nearly everyone. Suddenly the same woman is supposed to leave her jdb, whatever it is, to return home. "Johnny" has returned and the little woman is to turn brightly to him and say "Thank heaven syou are home! Now I can stop work!"

There are sectoral misunderstandings here and it is pertinent to examine them in relation to woman and her place in our economic world. Many of the women who might have been asked to return home actually have no home where their services are wanted. Many young women who might have been school girls four to six years ago are now adults who do not and should not need to expect support from a brother or a father. There are some women whose husbands did not return and should not be asked to forfelt a job simply because of their sex. Other women who are childless may need to "work" for a variety of reasons. To set these are discriminations to more subtle. The social in and economic discriminations are more subtle. The social and economic discriminations are more subtle. campaign is to build up and maintain a blood bank sufficient to the needs of the Commonwealth. If this goal is reached it means that every member of the Commonwealth will be assured blood when he needs it free of charge! This is the most urgent need of resecting. Every day need of peacetime. Every day some person's life may hang in the balance if the correct type of blood needed is not procurable. It is a constant and unrelenting fight against death which can only be waged and won successfully if the correct type and amount of blood is on hand when needed.

This is the task which the New to Chapter of the American Red Cross has set for itself—to meet Newton's blood quota and thus assure all Newton residents free blood when they need it.

Since the Red Cross was founded, its philosophy has always been to serve every member of the community, to relieve and prevent suffering and to give help where help was needed. At the present time there is no better way of doing this than by assisting the Massachusetts Department of Public Health to

to attach! (A) Adjust

Are you tired of doing bending exercises every time you try to mow an edge? Then you want an Edge-Mo. The Edge-Mo is a third wheel that attaches to your lawnmower easily and quickly. It keeps your mower on balance, without strain, while you're edging.

You just let the outside wheel go over the edge. The Edge-Mo wheel takes over -holds the mower level, so the blades cut smoothly and evenly to the very edge. There's no more tiresome hand-clipping

-no need for a special edging mower when you use an Edge-Mo. It's efficient, long-lasting, economical.

The Good Samaritan A Sermon by Rev. Frederick M. Morris

It is unlikely that we shall ver find ourselves stumbling across a wounded person lying by a lonely roadside. The mobile rescue squads of modern fire de-partments or police departments or the Red Cross take care of such accidents and emergencies in these days long before any of us would have an opportunity to do much to help. How then shall Christ's command to go and do likewise if the opportunity is never going to present itself as is probably the case?

Let's examine the story more carefully and think about some of the implicit aspects of it in the effort to determine where we the effort to determine where we come into the picture or how we can take it as a lesson for us

First of all, we might consider the question: Who was to blame for the sad plight of the wounded man by the roadside? "Why, the robbers, of course, obviously" someone will say. But that would be a deceptively easy answer. Crime is tively easy answer. Crime is never as simple as that. Years ago people used to dismiss the matter of crime as easily as that. But in our day there has developed what we call the science of criminology. This means the careful investigation the background of crime-

We have learned that crime things which contribute enormwhen to production of crime.

We know that certain areas in our great cities are so cruelly unfit to live in that the minds and observations of children when the priest and the levite passed by on the other side, they were neglecting a recognized obligation to help. The wounded man and characters of children born in them are distorted and poisoned almost from the be-ginning and twisted into the mold of crime before they had a chance to know what is right and decent. We are beginning to recognize the fact that every citizen of a community shares in the responized that there is no crime committed in his community in which he does not bear some of the blame. Even tho he has only been indifferent and unconcerned with no direct or immediate respon-sibility still he shares the guilt because a Christian has no busi-ness to be indifferent or uncon-

We all agree that the Parable | students of those times, were far of the Good Samaritan is a beau-tiful story. But does it have any particular lesson for us? worse than anything we know today. Respectable people in those days regarded such men as mere animals to be kept under control by every means of harsh severity and whose extermina-tion would be a good thing. It never occurred to them that they were in any way responsible for their crimes or that anything needed to be done about it or that anything could be done.

But under the influence of Jesus who befriended people like that and who taught the respon-sibility of all men for one another, we have gradually come s) that the crime on the road to Jericho was the fault of the re-spectable citizens of Jerusalem and Jericho as well as of the robbers themselves. And we know that we obey Christ's command when we concern ourselves with when we concern ourselves with the misfortunes and the ill-fate of our fellow men no matter who or where they may be. For we share the responsibility for conditions which breed crime and misery, as well as the results of such things.

Another lesson in the story can be understood only when we realize that there was bitter enmity between the Jews and the Samaritans. The wounded man by the roadside was a Jew and that made him, according to the ideas of those people, a mortal enemy of what precedes it and what fos- the Samaritan who ministered to his needs.

was one of their own cople.

Everyone who heard the story would be filled with disgust at any such obvious flaunting of the standards of decency and kind liness. Of course the priest and the levite could have rationalized and excused their behaviour to themselves. It's always so easy sibilty for such ugly conditions to convince ourselves that our which some are forced to own behaviour is blameless! They probably said to themselves—intelligent Christian real-"After all I had nothing to do with the poor man's trouble. Far be it from me to rob and wound a traveler. Somebody ought to do something about these awful robbers. It's too bad that I have such important business and that I am in such a hurry today. But I'm sure someone will come along soon who has time to help."

Those robbers on the road to Jericho were undoubtedly ill-favored products of the slums of Jerusalem which, according to quite obvious that those men hand owed the man nothing. If he had passed by no one would have thought it strange or wrong. Such were the ideas of people generally in those days.

Because the priest and levite passed by, the fact that the Samaritan stopped to help stands out all the more dramaically. The listeners were really jolted by this turn of affairs in the story.

The Samaritan was much more than just a kindy—disposed in-dividual. He had courage to flaunt the popular prejudice of his people and to defy public opinion. He had the insight to understand and to value the bond which unites all men as children of one Heavenly Father. He had humility and honesty to admit his share in the responsibility for the conditions which produce the violence which resulted in the predicament of the wounder man. He knew that the kind of feeling between the Jews and the Samaritans is the source of all manner of evil in the world.

It was precisely because the Samaritan was so much more than just a kindly man that Our Lord admonished His hearers to go and do likewise. The Samaritan was not only kindly disposed but also willing and ready to assume responsi-bilities for positive action. He refused to be victimized by the low standards of popular morality. He was big enough and good enough to do more than was conventionally respectable. He was Christian enough to defy the race prejudice which brooded so darkly over the land and which caused so much sorrow and suf fering and misery.

When we think of the story in these terms we see that it has a just an admonition to help a wounded traveler in the remote possibility that we may someday stumble across one at the road-side. It is not just a command that we be kindly disposed. On the contrary, we find it a lesson in our Christian responsibility for one another regardless of race and class, regardless of whether or not we ourselves had any direct responsibility for the misfortunes of those who need our help. It is a lesson in race relations. It is a lesson in social service. It is a lesson in mission-ry responsibility.

To be kindly disposed is so ele mentary a requirement of Chris tian discipleship that one can hardly feel satisfied in merely be ing that. To administer help in emergencies when the need is thrust before us inexcapably is also much too elementary to qualify a person as a Christian disciple. The Parable of the Good Samaritan is a command that we go out of our way to seek oppor nities for service in spite of so cial and racial prejudices or barriers, realizing our involvement in the responsibility for all evil conditions in society even in those instances where we are not immediately and directly to

Compound Kills Weeds as It Stimulates Grass

Now you can strike out weeds while beautifying your grass in the few minutes it takes to scatter a new dry compound over the lawn. This action is produced by a combination of lawn food and weed control, biologically com-patible, that work together to destroy all broad-leaved weeds while nourishing the grass to thicker growth and richer color.

According to O. M. Scott & Sons Co. of Marysville, Ohio, producers

The experience of Scott research workers indicate that the combination produces results beyond separate treatments. Garages are not a safe place storing paper, as there is possibility of sparks from cars' exhaust igniting the separate treatments. Where chemical weed sprayings alone retard grass temporarily, the effect of simultaneous feeding is to encourage grass to spread out and fill in spots left by dying weeds.

Strangely enough in the Scott plots it was noticed that blade growth was not as fast after the dual treatment even though the turf was of better color and vigor. This delaying action should be as welcome to the one who pushes the mower as will the news that it is no longer necessary to fuss with a sprayer to get rid of ugly weeds.

Army Appeals to High School Grads

The War Department is making a special appeal to the young men who will graduate from high school this year to volunter for military service, according to Nicholas Veduccio, exalted ruler of Newton Lodge No. 1327. This word has been received by the Elks National Veterans Service Commission which is cooperating with the War Department in its campaign to recruit 30,000 men required each month to keep the Army on the footing so vital to national defense.

This year's high school grad-uating class will be the first since 1940 that will have the opportun-ity to enter the Army service on a voluntary basis, and the num ber of these graduates who vol-unteer will be a factor in the sol-ution of the problem of military manpower which has been com-plicated by the ending of Selecphoated by the ending of selec-tive Service.

The Army offers a real career to young men graduating from high school. It offers the benefits of army training and education of army training and education-al facilities, special schools for qualified men, and college ben-efits under the G. I. Bill of Rights, which will be operative until Congress officially termin-ates World War II.

Young men about to graduate from high school, who are interested in the splendid career offered by the Army, may obtain complete information at the Elks Lodge or the nearest Army Recruiting office.

Dr. Hamilton in Plea for Blood, Tells of Urgent Need of Donors

"Why should I give my blood to the State Blood Bank anyway? My family are all well and if they should need blood, I can furnish it or hire a professional donor at the time." To answer this question, we must first inquire a bit into the history of blood transfusion and blood banks.

Blood transfusion, now accepted as a rutine adjunct to treatment, was almost a heroic measure only twenty years ago. Early transfusions were given directly from donor to recipient and required the services of a surgeon to be accomplished.

When it was shown that blood preserved by chemical agents would remain usable as such for a week or more, a blood ank was the next logical step. we could keep one bottle, why

A Timely Warning

In calling attention to the potential hazards of open air fires, Chief John L. Keating of the local fire department has issued a timely warning which should be heeded.

With the warm sun of Spring coming into its own, the urge is great with lovers of gardens and owners of property to get out with the rake, clean up winter's debris and the fallen leaves, that their gardens and property be made presentable and attractive. their gardens and property be made presentable and attractive.

This having been accomplished, the urge to burn in the back yard

In a naving been accomplished, the urge to burn in the back yard the accumulated gathering is a temptation hard to resist.

But to do this promiscuously and without first having obtained a permit to do so from the Chief, the individual ignoring the law applicable to the burning of open air first, lay-themselves liable to "a first of the country was then one hundred deliver as here." selves liable to "a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one month, or both."

Citizens bent on cleaning up their property, therefore, would do well to obtain the necessary permission before taking the matter in their own hands and thereby inviting a penalty such as is described by law.

Miss Van Waters, who was formerly a juvenille court judge in Los Angeles, stressed the importance of the new science of child welfare and the new conception of specialized juvenile courts, not to meet out punish-ment, but as a tribunal to en-force the basic rights of all children to food, shelter and other necessities of life, to be provided by the courts in the same manner as it would be the duty of interested parents to do. She gave us a good view of life in prison and impressed us greatly with her knowledge of and inter-est in her job.

distance from Boston. May I inquire why it is that they object to letting the voters of Boston conduct a simple referendum on the Plan E. question?

Another point. Most of these gentlemen voted not long ago to abolish the proportional representation system of voting in this state. Had they succeeded, Plan E would have been wiped out in the so-called good old days when anybody with half a brain could predict precisely what was going the solution of the situation.

To begin with, it is obvious to most thoughtful observers of matters political that each year discussion. gentlemen voted not long ago to abolish the proportional representation system of voting in this state. Had they succeeded, Plan E would have been wiped out in Cambridge and Lowell. The vast majority of people who know anything at all about municipal government have conceded that Plan E has been a life-saver for Cambridge, at least. Fortunately the lower branch of the Legislature killed the bill which would have repealed Plan E. It might be well to watch the votes of these seven Senators rather closely from now on.

ASPIRATION AND ATTAINMENT
God gives everyone his peculair work to do, and happy is that man who has found his work and is about the Father's business. We can trust and need never fear that individual whose highest ambition and endeavor are to be the reflection of Truth and Love; who seeks always to make divine Principle first in his own life; who refers all others to the Father-Mother, God; who expresses supreme confidence that "power belongeth unto God;" (Psalm 62 v. 11) and who asks and is satisfied with divine guidance alone. We can only be benefitted by contact with such characters. As Mrs. Eddy has well said:—"He who gains the Godcrowned summit of Christian Science never abuses the corporeal personality, but uplifts it. He thinks of every one in his real quality, and sees each mortal in an impersonal depict." (Retrospection and Introspection page 76). To such an one who has the vision of his true selfhood and is valiantly striving to be the man God made, and who in selflessness and tender compassion is opening the way for others, there will come the voice of divine Love, uttering itself to consciousness: "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

A Lecture Christian Science:

entitled Christian Science: The Knowledge of True Selfhood

Dr. John M. Tutt, C.S.B.

of Kansas City, Mo. Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, In Boston, Massachusetts

Dr. Tutt was introduced to the large audience which filled First Church of Christ, Scientist of Newton this evening, by Mrs. Ernestine M. Kyle, Second Read er, who said:

"Friends: On behalf of this Church I extend to you a most cordial welcome to this lecture.

"To understand one's true identity is of vital importance.

Today men are being challenged Today men are being cantenged to use their God-given ability to think; and only through clear, spiritual thinking can we meet and solve the problems that are claiming to confront humanity.

"Our revered Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, writes in "Pulpit and Press" (pg. 15) "Know thy-self, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

"Our lecturer this evening is bringing us a clear realization of man's heritage and high estate as the creature of God, as God's image and likeness. If we all will open our consciousness to accept his message, a great blessing will follow.

"It is now my privilege to introduce to you Dr. John M. Tutt."

The Lecturer spoke substantially

The Lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

A certain eminent exponent of material psychology, an authority in the science of the so-called human mind has declared recently that all the world's shortcomings, its follies, wants and woes, indeed, all that is wrong in the world, may properly be stated in terms of egotism; that regardless of generally accepted beliefs as to the determining influence of heredity, environment and sex, the originating cause of all abnormality, inefficiency, misery and crime, is to be found in the human sense of self. He further avers that the world will never lose its selfishness, imperfection, its sin, discord, disease and death until some one shall find outside the human mind a higher, truer concept of I, and shall thus bring to humanity a cure for its segotism. Such a pronouncement is the voice of one crying in the widerness of materialism proclaiming the way of salvation for all those sunk in the morass of material self-thinking, self-seeking, self-worship, the unhappy cult of the human mind and body. Also it amounts to a frank confession that exhaustive research in the sothe human mind and body. Also it amounts to a frank confession that exhaustive research in the so-called mind of the brain reveals the fact that true selfhood is not to be found in brain lobes, in the alleged "human form divine," nor in the human intellect.

in the human intellect.

TRUE PSYCHOLOGY

More than 60 years ago, Mary Baker Eddy, a deeply religious thinker, herself a scholar and student of great attainment, through the paths of reason an' spiritual revelation arrived at the perception of the untrue nature of material selfhood. But unlike the materialist, she did not stop there. She pondered the significance of the saying of Christ Jesus: "If any man will come after me" (find the real man) "iet him deny himself" (material selfhood) "take up the cross" (accept the responsibility of such repudiation) "and follow me" (himself also prove the way from the false, material sense of self to true, spiritual identity as the son of God). In following Jesus' direction, Mrs. Eddy discovered the way out of the false into the true gense of being. She named her discovery Christian Science. This Science of Christ, or knowledge of true being, she set forth in her book "Science and Heaith with Key to the Scriptures" which she first published in 1875. In this volume which, with the Bible, is the sole authority for Christian Science, she shows that "the Mind which was also in Christ Jesus," and which St. Paul admonishes you and me to have in us, cannot be the alleged mind of the brain of which modern material psychology treats, and of which it predicates the human intellect and all material knowledge, including sin and disease; but that the Mind in Christ Jesus, because of his TRUE PSYCHOLOGY predicates the human intellect and all material knowledge, including sin and disease; but that the Mind in Christ Jesus, because of his spirituality, wisdom and goodness, must have been the universal in-telligence, the source of all true knowledge, of all right ideas, in short, the divine Essence or Spirit called God.

SELFHOOD IN GOD

The knowledge of true selfhood then, is not to be arrived at through dwelling upon or analyzing material personality, but by reversing and rejecting the material sense of I and gaining through Christian Science an understanding of the spiritual identity of both man and his Maker. Spiritually to understand God, the divine Principle, or one great Cause from which all effect proceeds, is to know the man He made, as the Bible avers, in His own image, is to understand your own true selfhood. Some critics have falsely claimed that Mrs. Eddy denied the personality of God, but contrariwise, she aftered the personality of God, but contrariwise, she aftered. firmed God to be the infinite Person. She has consistently spoken of Diety as Father. Indeed, she has appropriately defined the completeness and wholeness of the Creator as both Father and Mother, and has said that the name Father-Mother indicates the tender relationship of the Creator to His off-spring. To be sure, Mrs. Eddy shows how it would be impossible for an infinite being to be corporeal form. Finite, limited divinity is a paradox, Infinite physique is an impossibility. The person of Deity is therefore not an object however thought and that divine reflection thought and that divine reflection, or thought is, to quote St. Paul. "The express image of His (God's) person." This spiritual idea, or son of God, is inseparable from the Mind that thinks it, and so divine Principle, including Cause and effect, Mind and idea, Father and son, God and man, is the infinite and only Being, the great Spirit, the "I am that I am," the one Ego.

and only Being, the great Spirit, the "I am that I am," the one Ego. UNITY AND DISTINCTNESS Christian Science teaches no doctrine of pantheism, no oriental philosophy of absorption in Deity. The oneness of God and man is also their distinctness, the unity and yet the distinctness, the unity and yet the distinctness of cause and effect, of Mind and idea. In Science and Health (Pg. 477) Mrs. Eddy asks "What are body and Soul?" and immediately answers. "Identity is the reflection of Spirit, the reflection in multifarious forms of the living Principle, Love." It is, furthermore, evident that man, being the offspring of the infinite Mind, or consciousness, must derive whatever he is or does, not from himself, the effect, but from God, the Cause. Hence individual consciousness, or spiritual man, specifically expresses the infinite consciousness and so man derives his individuality or true spiritual selfhood.

ENTER THE LIE OF SATAN

ENTER THE LIE OF SATAN ENTER THE LIE OF SATAN
The Book of Job declares: "Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them." Although the sons of God, the right ideas are ever present in true consciousness, there is, to human sense, present also the upside-down statement, or wrong concept. In human reasoning every statement of truth can be inverted and made negative. But such reversion does not make the negative true; rather, it fixes it negative true; rather, it fixes it negative true; rather, it fixes it as a lie.

Is there a personal devil? Yes, there is, in belief, a personal devil, and his satanic majesty is none other than personal sense, or a sense of selfhood apart from God, a claim of consciousness separate from the one divine Mind. Such a state of being is impossible, for all being is in God, Mind and its idea: hence, personal sense, or a state of being is impossible, for all being is in God, Mind and its idea; hence, personal sense, or a sense of being independent of God, is an error of false belief, and not a fact. There are no errors of fact. All that appears to be a material personality is actually an illusion, and because of its unlikeness to Spirit, God, it is a delusion having the elements of evil. All that is illusive is also delusive, a deception, and therefore mesmeric, harmful in character and effects. Hence comes the one evil, or evil one, called devil.

But remember, Satan comes as your personal sense; your recognition of it, in some guise or other, either in thought or on the body, is required before evil can become to you existent. Just as all truth is in the divine Mind, the universal intelligence, so all error is in a false meticality and exists in heliaf to you existent. Just as all truth is in the divine Mind, the universal intelligence, so all error is in a false mentality and exists in belief before you claim it as your own conception; but its seeming reality can have existence to you only as your own thought. All the water in the seven seas could never sink a ship unless it got inside the vessel. Be not afraid of error, my friend. Keep your consciousness infact, stopping all leaks, and you will safely rife the seas of evil, whether calm or stormy. Stopping a leak is primary. Satan comes to you only as self's own thought, for only so could you be induced to say of evil; 'I fear it, I feel it; I have it, I am it.' Evil must deceive you into a sense of recognition or possession to obtain your credence. It appeals only to the bad element in human consciousness. And this false personal sense of material selfhood is rill the devil there is.

DUAL PERSONALITY

Evil is not a person, but it claims to be a person and to act through and as persons. That is why Mrs. Eddy called its alleged activity animal magnetism. We need to be alert to this claim of error and to its falsity. Take away its claim of material consciousness and evil is readily seen for its nothingness.

False consciousness hides behind the mask of the personal pronoun. e. g. "I am afraid;" "I am offended;" "my back hurts;" my stomach aches." We must tear off this mask, this deceived and deceiving sense of ourselves and of others, even as Jesus did. Mortal mind's claim of "I am" is the basic lie. Claiming to be Ego, it is error's supreme counterfeit of good, of God Himself. The only "I" Jesus claimed was his spiritual identity in God. "I am not alone." he told the Pharisees, "but I and the Father that sent me." (John S. v. 16). To the personal sense of Ego, he said:

—"Get thee behind me, Satan." (Matthew 16, v. 23) Mrs. Eddy admönishes us to silence personal sense. She writes: "Silencing self, alias rising above corporeal personality, is what reforms the sinner monishes us to silence personal sense. She writes: "Silencing self, alias rising above corporeal personality, is what reforms the sinner and destroys sin. In the ratio that the testimony of material personal sense ceases, sin diminishes, until the false claim called sin is finally lost for lack of witness." (Retrospection and Introspection, page 67). Agree to disagree with the testimony, "I am sick," "I am the testimony." I am offended," "I am discouraged," "I am diseated," Declare and, hold to it in word and in thought, that you are well and know it, and that the helief that it is otherwise than well with you is a lie of personal sense falsely claiming to be you, the child of God. Jesus said: "The prince of this world cometh and hath nothing in me." (John 14 v. 30). Declare with Jesus that nothing in you responds to evil's argument or corresponds to evil's argument or corresponds to it. Divest evil of any supposed personality or mind, and don't allow it to be in your consciousness as personal sense. Unless evil succeeds in convincing you, it does not touch you.

Personal sense found no response

you.

Personal sense found no reaponse in Jesus' mentality and he rejected its argument. Remember evil does not come to you from your own thought, but if it reaches you, it must do so through or as your own thought. It requires the adoption of evil as your own for you to possess a false sense. Only Satan recognizes and claims evil, Jesus said of the devil; "When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a far, and the father of it." (John 8 v. 44). As for you, my friend, since evil has only the power and effect you give it in belief, let evil disappear for lack of witness in your mentality.

THE PERSONAL SAVIOR

THE PERSONAL SAVIOR Both good and evil are more than any individual illustration of them. Good is a larger reality and evil is a larger unreality. Nevertheless, one's concept of evil is all the evil he is responsible for, all the error that to him appears. The universe and man is collective as well as individual, but a mortal's misconcept of himself and of the world is peculiarly his own misconcept. Hence the need of personal salvation. One suffers only as one sins in false belief, and one is to be saved from the false belief, and so from sin and suffering. Salvation is thus a very personal matter. Isaiah cried: "Ye shall be gathered one by one. O ye children of Israel." (Isaiah 27 v. 12). Every prodigal must return to the Father for the final glory of God. "Many are called." How many? All. "But few are chosen." Why? Not ready. Salvation is individual. Is there then a personal Savior? Yes, Jesus Christ who illustrated in his own being and life the nature of salvation. He worked out his own salvation, both for himself and for others. We, each in his own peculair path must work out the "passage from sense to Soul." (Science and others, We, each in his own peculair path must work out the "passage from sense to Soul." (Science and Health, page 566). "And so," declared Paul, "all Israel shall be saved." (Romans 11 v. 26.) Christ, Truth, saves mortals from the errors of personal sense. Christ is the healing and expression of God, the son of God in his healing and saving activity. Jesus was the individual who fulfilled the office of Christ as related to mortal man.—

the son of God in his healing and saving activity. Jesus was the individual who fulfilled the office of Christ as related to mortal msn.—that Christ "which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error." (Science and Health, page 533.)

Luke traces Jesus supposed genealogy from Joseph to Adam, but the real Jesus was neither a son of Adam nor the son of Joseph. He was the son of a virgin. To human sense Jesus was a mortal, a man of flesh, but Jesus' real being, his identity, even as yours and mine, is not in perishable mortal mind and matter; it is in God, in Spirit. Mrs. Eddy writes: "Because of mortals' material and sinful beilef, the spiritual Jesus was imperceptible to them." (Science and Health, page 314). God's true selfhood was expressed in the real Jesus. His life of unselfish activity, doing good, healing the sick, saving the sinning and comforting the sorrowing, proves him to be the Christ. There is a distinction to be made between Jesus and the Christ for Jesus is the man and Christ is the title of his divine office. And this man who so lived the Christ, spiritual Truth, was the Savior for all mankind; for you, for me, and for all who will let the Savior in! Great is the company of those that publish the word, but that mighty army of the ransomed is made up of individuals, each working his own way. Every individual must work out of his own false concepts, and that process is salvation of self, personal salvation through Christ, Truth. Can we make too much of Jesus? No! Too much honor and glory, reverence and love could not be accorded him who was the supreme benefactor and friend of mankind. Ashamed of Jesus! God forbid! And God forbid that we should ever attempt the impossibility of separating him from Christ, the ideal man of God's creating, or of leaving him, the Savior, out of God's plan of salvation.

THE APPROACH TO GOD

THE APPROACH TO GOD THE APPROACH TO GOD
What is the defense against the adversary? How are we to reject personal sense and remand Satan to justice, to perpetual silence? The only efficacious weapon is prayer.
Knowing that personal sense comes Knowing that personal sense comes in human consciousness and both lies "in wait to deceive" and also "as a roaring lion, walketh about." Jesus said: "Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation." (Mark 14, v. 38). To ask God to open blind eyes is a right prayer, an effective dispeller of the mesmeric mask which would obscure and confuse the vision of the eternal, ever present facts. The facts nal, ever present facts. The facts of being are always favorable to man. Prayer, by dispelling the false presentments, enables one to see the facts.

Is there a personal approach to God? Man is near and dear to his Father-Mother God in a very spirit unly personal way. What could be nearer than hands and feet? Mind nearer than hands and feet? Mind alone. One can never be separated from one's thoughts. So divine Mind can never be separated from Mind's ideas. God is to man all that Father-Mother could be to the offspring of creative Love. We should daily commune with God, cultivating the consciousness of His presence, power, and wisdom. We should ask daily, hourly, constantly, "Father-Mother what next?" Mrs. "Father-Mother what next?" Mrs. Eddy has caught the spirit of answered prayer in these words: "Those who know no will but His take His hand, and from the night He leads to light." (Miscellaneous Writings page 347).

Since crewthing that is wrong in Writings page 347).

Since everything that is wrong in the world is a wrong concept or false belief, the place to get rid of the world's woes is within one's own thought. The cure for the world's troubles, including one's own personal sense of trouble, is to change one's own wrong thinking. There is not other way since an error is one's own wrong thinking. There is no other way, since an error is error of belief, and at the last, of individual belief or personal sense. As Mrs. Eddy has put it: "Reason, rightly directed, serves to correct the errors of corporeal sense." (Science and Health, page 494), but what we most need is the conscious approach to God, the realization of the exclusive presence and scious approach to God, the realization of the exclusive presence and power of Christ, spiritual Truth,
The presence of spiritual consciousness means no presence to personal sense. Lifting thought above corporcality into the realization of man's true being, is the on'; way to leave off false personality and find true spiritual identity in which is health, hollness and harmony.
In that spiritual consciousness is is health, holiness and harmony. In that spiritual consciousness is found the answer to prayer, Remember true prayer is never in words alone. It may be with words, but prayer is in thought and deed only. Thinking of God and man is the antidote for the self-thinking of personal sense.

THE MINISTRY OF HEALING
The Master, who taught his disciples to pray, also enjoined upon them to preach the gospel of salvation and to heal the sick. That he extended the ministry of healing to include all Christians is evident from his words: "These signs shall follow them that believe: ... they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover." (Mark 16, v. 17 and 18). That injunction finds notable fulfillment in the lives of Christian Scientists today.

Healing the sick in Christian Science does not consist in projecting thoughts from one individual to another; it is not person over person, but Truth over error. It may be said truly that, God, who made all, never made a sick man, nor made a man sick, and there-THE MINISTRY OF HEALING

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC fore, there is no sick person to treat. Personal sense attacks the body by saying first to mortal man: "You are sick," thus inducing mortal man to agree: "I am sick." Christian Science befriends mortal man and body by unmasking per-sonal sense. It says to the ser-Christian Science befriends mortal man and body by unmasking personal sense. It says to the sense of sickness, "You are not in or on the man, but you are a lying sense." The disease seems to be in or on the body; indeed, all disease is constituted in an attack on the body, but the material body, whether normal or abnormal, is but the externalized concept or object of human thought. The body is, therefore, as mental, as if it were stated in terms of thought only. Hence, when dealing with mortal body we are really dealing with a phase of material mind. That fact brings the whole problem of disease on to the plane of mortal mind, where it belongs, and makes all disease and other abnormalities amenable to right thought.

Does man believe error about amenable to right thought.

Does man believe error about himself or others? No. The claim that he does is a lie of personal sense. We command the situation, whatever the problem, if we recognize that all evil is error of belief, not of fact, and we properly reduce all problems finally to terms of individual belief. The problems are largely errors of general belief which comprise the bulk off the evil with which we have to deal, but even the errors of general belief require of the individual the sense of possession or recognition before they can become to him a seeming reality. All the claims of evil are self constituted lies, masking as personal sense and thus setting up a claim of authenticity in human consciousness. But God. setting up a claim of authenticity in human consciousness. But God, divine Mind, the author of all things, does not allow these claims, not one of them; hence their unreality. The beliefs that we are the victims of sin or failure; the creatures of circumstance, environment, heredity; the possessors of disease; or that disease possesses us, are all lies which go down before Christian. Science. If we release error it cannot cling to us.

one's purpose, it is scientific to be temperate in all things. Should one diet, exercise, observe sanitary and hygienic laws? No, but one should live normally and be clean physically and morally. It is wholesome to be normal, but it is not scientific to be normal, but it is not scientific to predicate health upon physicality and material laws. As St. Paul put it, let everything be done as "to be glory of God" (I Corinthias 10, v. 31), not as to the glorification, or as to the fear of mortal mind and body, Jesus wasted no time or thought over material laws of hygiene, diet, exercise, physiology, climate, or medication. Can you imagine Jesus weighing himself? Can you imagine him estimating the calories in the corn he plucked and ate as he walked through the fields? And yet his life showed him to be a sanative and through the fields? And yet his life showed him to be a sanative and hyglenic expert in that he was clean and sound in mind, in body, and in morals. He lived moderately in all things, did this Way-shower. Christ Jesus was the Way—our example in all aspects of human life.

DISEASE A PERSONALLIABILITY

Disease is not an entity, nor is it a question of germs, but it is a question always of personal liability. Thus the tubercle bacillus is held to be ubiquitous, and we are told that countless numbers of them are breathed hourly by every one, yet the disease they are supposed to produce appears only in individuals that present a liability.
What constitutes that liability? A state of mind or mental consent; and that is true even when it seems to be attributable to lowered resistance of body, for mortal mind and body, remember, are one. Hence the liability to disease is a personal state. Notwithstanding all of which, the patient is not a person, neither a sick man, nor a man believing himself to be sick, but is, in fact, a false belief. In disease, mortal man and body are the victims of personal sense. Man is no more subject to disease than God is. It is personal sense, not man, that declares: "I am sick." In the illumination of spiritual sense. issiah

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newtonville

Nothing occurs without law. The Nothing occurs without law, the healing of sin, sickness, disease, etc., requires the breaking in human consciousness, of some so-called law of mortal belief. Now since these alleged laws are primarily mental they are to be broken by Truth, or the law of God, divine Mind. It is obvious that the individual needs only to utilize the truth by applying it to the error, to become conscious of the

MOTIVE MAKES MEDICINE MOTIVE MAKES MEDICINE Deep in the so-called human mind is the belief in the curative power of matter; that fundamental human opinion makes material medicine. How the individual arrives at that opinion is a detail.
He may inaugurate it himself, (each so-called curative agent must have had a beginning as such in somebody's thought), or he may accept it, consciously or unconaccept it, consciously or unconsciously, at the hands of others, or of general mortal belief. Anything is a medicine to you that you so conceive.

Material medicine, then, is the saterial matter is remedial. Motive makes medicine. Practically all the forms of matter have been used as curative agents, hence one's motive alone determines whether or not one is employing matter as medicine. In this, as in all other where of human life the whether or not one is employing matter as medicine. In this, as in all other phases of human life, the pure in heart alone see God. To refrain from using material remedies is to turn away from them both materially and mentally to spiritual Truth, Christ. Sometimes an individual wonders why he is not healed, when all the time that he has studied Christian Science, and has perhaps had Christian Science treatment, his thought has remained unchanged in its belief in material medicines and in the healing power of matter. To take exercise as such is a material remedy. Exercise as a normal activity of the body is scientific. To diet or restrict one's food is either a material remedy or not, according to proclaimed: "The inhabitant shall not say, I am sick." (Isaiah 33 v. 24). Personal sense should not be allowed to say anything, but should be remanded to perpetual silence. THE PRESENCE AND PERMA NENCE OF TRUE SELFHOOD

NENCE OF TRUE SELFHOOD
That man never loses his individuality and identity, his existence and presence, Jesus proved when he showed himself to others after the crucifixion to be the same Jesus they thought had been killed and that they knew to have been buried and seaded in the tomb, Everything, loped for on the other side of the grave Jesus held out and proved as a present possibility. He said plainly: "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou has sent." (John 17, v. 3), in other words, Christ, the healing and saving activity of God reaches to man always, and touches humanity here and now. Life is knowledge; consciousness of Mind and its ideas, What possible effect could mortal man's dying have upon ideas, or upon one's consciousness of them? upon one's consciousness of them? They are alone the permanent facts untouched by time or other limita-tions and they alone comprise true existence, true individuality, true presence, yea, that kingdom within called heaven. PERSONAL LIBERTY AND SELF-CONTROL

At this time when bill-boards, newspapers and magazines are rampant in urging the gratification of the senses, with alluring assurances of satisfaction, and in response men and women are going many a mile of self-indulgence, it is important for him whe runs and reads to reject all such suggestions. The senses do not satisfactions. The senses do not satisfactions.

and reads to reject all such suggestions. The senses do not satisfy, instead, they stullify and stupefy. To the deceptive senses the paraphrase is applicable: "Trust them not, they are fooling thee."

"Bring forth your strong reasons," cried Isaiah (41 v. 21). Unenlightened by divine Truth, a mortal is governed by his false concepts. He will fear or love these idols. He will go all the way for them because false gods are jealous gods and must forsooth be placated, for terrible is their visitation of iniquity upon their hapless worshippers. Enslavement to false appetites; fear of disease; beliefs of sin and its penalties; bowing down to the body; liability to lack, loss, sorrow. Is there no emancipation from "strong reasons?" What about personal liberty?

Christian Science reveals the fact that every man is himself alone, a law unto himself, reflecting the infinite Principle, God. Each man is governed and controlled, guided, influenced, and directed by God—by the supreme wisdom of the divine Mind. Intelligence is his, and he knows what to do, and how and when to do it, He is never dominated or controlled or influenced by other persons, circumstances or things. Personal liberty, then, is self-control or man's obedience to divine law. Man is free to do God's will and that freedom is liberty enough. Oh friend! Know thyself and be thyself! Dispossessed or unpossessed of self-knowledge, you will believe yourself liable to evil, and will see yourself liable to evil, and will see yourself in an evil aspect. Remember you can acquire error and its effects only through a personal sense of its possession. It must become your own error and te transplanted into terms of the must become your own error and transplanted into terms of the first personal pronoun. In error only the "I's" have it.

only the "I's" have it.

Has man the freedom to sin, to be sick, to see error in others, or in things, to abuse the corporeality, whether his own or another's? No! Man's personal liberty is comprised in being himself, in his individuality and identity. The understanding of his real selfhood, his spiritual individuality, gives man power and wisdom. This knowledge is life eternal or consciousness of true being.

Bear in mind that a mortal sees his thoughts only, false concepts being.

Bear in mind that a mortal sees his thoughts only, false concepts of right ideas. These concepts of right ideas. These concepts of right ideas. These concepts or ginate in mortal mind but they must be one's own concepts if one sees them. We see our own thoughts of ourselves and of others. So others see their own thoughts of our adopt other people's wrong concepts of us and conform our lives and ourselves to them. This allowing others to make for us our thoughts, and even to shape our thought, and even to shape our thought and even to shape our thought transference. It is thought adoption whereby we come to call other people's concepts our own. We must raise our concepts of ourselves and of others to a higher plane, wherein the man of God's conceiving, or God's knowledge of Himself begins to appear. We should always think well of the man God made and strive to conform our lives to that higher concept. If others see us in an aspect of limitation, unloveliness, imperfection, unittelligence, inefficiency, failure, are we to agree to all that and so consider ourselves to be? Blessed is the man that overcomes his own false concepts of himself and of others and many times blessed is he that refuses to adopt other people's erroneous concepts of himself and all he that refuses to adopt other people's erroneous concepts of himself but who sees himself and all others as God sees all His offspring. In the words of Mrs. Eddy: "Thou shalt recognize thyself as God's spiritual child only." (Miscellaneous Writings page 18). Always be assured that mortal mind's estimate of you or prediction of ways be assured that mortal mind's estimate of you, or prediction of your future, can never be true absolutely. My friend, be a law to yourself; be yourself, reflecting the only law, God's good will. Man is not a receiver of evil suggestions, he is not an absorber of evil. He is a reflector of good.

is a reflector of good.

"Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left." (Matthew 24, v. 40.) So spoke Jesus. Salvation is so individual, so very personal, that it is impossible for one to wait on is impossible for one to wait on another. Two or more may progress together in the liberty of the children of God, lending loving cooperation, proving that in scientific union there is strength; but each must work out his own salvation. One is never alone on the pass, for God is with him always. To be alone with God is to lose all sense of wordly dependence on persons of wordly dependence on person and things. Cultivate assiduously and things. Cultivate assiduously and preserve your sense of individuality as God's expression. Thus only can you stand in the evil hour when personal sense of loss would rob you of loved ones. Never merge your selfhood with another's personality. God made man individual and distinct.

personality. God made man individual and distinct.

THE TALENTS GOD BESTOWS

God never made a weak man subject to the machinations of personal sense. Should one possess or develop a strong personality? Yes, if the individual subordinates personal sense to the real sense of Christ and God. Indeed, in proportion to his self-surrender to divine will and wisdom, will he reflect the strength of individuality which identifies him as the child of God, and which endues him with Christ, the power for god. Not mere knowledge of medicine makes a useful and successful physician, but knowledge plus individuality. So it is with every department of human life. The lawyer, merchant, salesman, clerk, all must manifest individuality to be notably successful. Shall we not employ and develop the talents God bestows? The scientific Christian will heal the sick and save the sinning, and comfort those that mourn, just as he is himself strong in individual reflection of divine Love, Keep in mind always that man is the expression of God. This God, who is Mind, Principle, Love, Truth, expresses, such qualities as intelligence, strength, love, truth in individual man. One cannot have too strong a personality but one must unceasingly pray truly the Master's prayer: "I can of mine own self do nothing." (John 5 v. 30), we should strive to make ourselves winsome and winning, not colorless nor forbidding, Men and women of strong personalities, whether they be compelling or persussive, must through self-surrender, possess the Christ to render themselves harmless to others and to themselves, and helpful to all. A strong personality, imbued with Christ, under divine control and direction, is capable of great good to the human race. Such an individual was Mary Baker Eddy.

HUMANITARIAN, REVELATOR, AND LEADER THE TALENTS GOD BESTOWS

HUMANITARIAN, REVELATOR, AND LEADER

AND LEADER

Mrs. Eddy's individuality was expressed humanly in a strong personality; in contrast to her slight physicality, her presence, though gentle and loving, was commanding and impressive—a perpetual challeuge to evil, a compassionate assurance to all those harrassed by personal sense. A gentleman whose business relationship with Mrs. gddy in the publishing of her books frequently brought him in conference with her in her home, Pleasant View, at Concord, N. H., has written of her; "The character

Istic about Mrs. Eddy that impressed me the first time I met her was her motherliness. She gave everyone the impression of deepest interest and concern in what he said, and was sympathetic in everything that touched on his personal affairs. To many, he goes on to say, "her name suggests a great religious movement, but when I think of her I seem to see acres of green grass, a placid little lake, a silver strip of river, and a boundary line of hills, and within the unpretentious house a slight, unassuming woman,—very real, very human, very appealing, supremely content in the self-knowledge that no matter what others might think she was delivering her message to the world!"

While Christian Scientists love Mrs. Eddy for her humanness, nevertheless they understand that her mission was divine. They believe Mrs. Eddy to be the final Revelator of Truth to mankind. Mrs. Eddy revealed the allness of divine Mind and its ideas. Could there be revealed more than all? And they reyere her as the Leader of the mighty movement she established. That work God gave her to Placement Tests at Newton High School

It is a common observation that this is a secular age. The great sin of secularism is its stupid inability to correctly appraise values. It exalts the trivial at the expense of the con-sequential. It substitutes out-ward glamor for inherent worth. It follows the fleeting attractions of the eye rather than the deep understandings of the heart.

Today there are thousands of boys and girls who cannot go to school at all because there are no teachers to teach them because there is no money provided to pay the teacher—and this in the richest country in the world. Compare this with the days of our fathers when out of their deepest poverty they thought that no sacrifice was too great to adequately provide for the education of youth. Secularism is the confusion of values and must inevitably bring down upon itself the judgment of God.

History of the Church

Centenary Methodist Church is celebrating this month the Eighth Anniversary of the dedi-cation of its sanctuary. Its cor-nerstone was laid on Christmas Day, 1886. Since that was in the One Hundreth Anniversary year of American Methodism, this Church, like many others started or built that year, was called "Centenary".

"Methodist work in August 1880" began in the year 1860. For a time services were held at the homes of the people and in the old Riverside Academy. The Sunday School was organized Jan-uary 23, 1861. The first regular pastor engaged was Rev. L. P. pastor engaged was Rev. L. P. Frost, who began his ministry April 13, 1862. The formal organization of the church was completed June 1, 1863.

"Meetings were held in "The Hall", a building at the corner of Lexington and Melrose Avenue, until it burned July 23, 1865. Union services were then held with the Congregationalists until a lot was purchased and the present church building was partly erected." In 1898 the parsonage at 304

Central was purchased. In 1910 the Parish House was added to the Church. In 1923 Miss Mabel T. Eager presented the Church an exceptionally fine pipe organ, in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Eager.

Twenty-one ministers have served the Church. One of them, Rev. James W. Bashford, subsequently becoming a Bishop in the Methodist Church.
